STATEMENT REGARDING THE WORK OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE.

I.—The Convention—The Jubilee.

1. The 33d International Convention.—The year 1899 has been made memorable in the history of the North American association movement by the important and far-reaching action taken by the 33d International Convention at Grand Rapids. The convention was noteworthy for the presence of an unusually large number of the representative business men connected with the management of the North American associations. The unexampled exhibit, noticed elsewhere, was a most remarkable feature. Among the important decisions reached may be mentioned the enthusiastic approval of the army and navy work, the opportunity and demand for which had occurred since the former convention. This action has placed new responsibility upon the International Committee, and adds greatly to the volume and usefulness of its work. The convention also authorized further enlargement in the other departments of the committee's administration.

2. The Jubilee Convention.—But what chiefly signalized the Grand Rapids convention was its important decision to celebrate the jubilee year of the North American associations in 1901, by making the program of the International Convention of that year, in all its features, commemorative of this jubilee.

To fitly and adequately accomplish this commemoration a preparation is needed which must tax seriously both the treasury and the working force of the committee. Already a special committee of its members and secretaries has been appointed; conference with the Boston association, which is to entertain the convention, has been opened; and the raising of one special fund by that association and of another by the committee has been found necessary in order to carry out the broad and comprehensive program which is being prepared. The co-operation by prayer and effort of all interested in the best welfare of the associations is earnestly solicited that the great objects of this convention may be so realized as to prove a blessing and stimulus to the entire association brotherhood on this and all the continents. The date decided upon is June 11-16, 1901.

3. The Jubilee Fund.—As part of the commemoration of the jubilee year the Grand Rapids convention urged upon the associations and their friends securing for the international work, A JUBILEE PERMANENT FUND OF ONE MILLION DOLLARS. Already this appeal has met with some response.

(a) One friend has given into the custody of the board of trustees of the committee in good interest bearing securities, $25,000, to form part of the general fund, the proceeds of which are appropriated by the committee each year to that part or department of the work most in need.

(b) Another friend offers to provide an administration building in New York for the office accommodation of the international work.

(c) $50,000 is offered by another friend, provided an equal amount is subscribed to complete a fund of $100,000—the proceeds of which will be specially devoted to the administration of the student department.

(d) A fourth friend offers $5,000, provided $10,000 more is subscribed, toward the support of the colored department of the international work.

All these generous friends are already giving annually and liberally for the carrying on of the committee's work. There is urgent need of the speedy co-operation of many more if this important fund is to be happily completed during the jubilee year.

II.—Committee Meetings—Women's Auxiliary—Association Men.

1. Committee Meetings.—The past year has been one of steady and substantial growth in every department of the work entrusted to the International Committee. This work has been faithfully administered by the eleven sub-committees whose reports have been carefully reviewed and acted upon at the regular monthly meetings of the working quorum in New York city.

The regular fall conference of the committee and its secretaries was held at Long Beach, N. Y., September 2-5, 1899. At this time the policy and plans for the year were fully discussed. This was followed by section conferences of the respective sub-committees with the various departmental secretaries. Special attention and instructions were given in each department concerning the mutual relationships of comity and conference between the International Committee and the state or provincial committees as, "established by usage hitherto," and as emphasized by the action of the Grand Rapids convention, and the committee in all its work has endeavored to meet the needs of each field in accordance with the spirit of these instructions from the convention.

The annual dinner meeting of the committee and its friends in New York, November 17, was attended by an unusual number of guests and was improved as a valuable opportunity for the review of the entire work.

2. Association Men.—In the discretion granted to the committee by the Grand Rapids convention, the association paper has been leased from the Young Men's Era Company for one year from October 1st, 1899, with the privilege of renewal for another year, and the paper is being published under the name of "Association Men," with Frank W. Ober as editor. The officers, members and friends of the association have so co-operated with the committee, its editor and secretaries, that the paper seems to be giving increasing satisfaction to its constituency.

3. Women's Auxiliary.—To the Mobile convention the committee reported the appointment in the spring of 1897, of a "WOMEN'S AUXILIARY of the International Committee." The officers of this auxiliary are :

President, First Vice-President, Second Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer.
Mrs. E. A. McAlpin. Mrs. R. Sage. Miss H. M. Gould. Miss L. C. O'Neill.

These officers, with Mrs. John P. Munn and Mrs. O. B. Potter, comprise the executive committee.

The past year has witnessed a marked growth in the auxiliary, and a most gratifying interest on the part of the members.

The Spanish-American war, and the inauguration of the association movement in the army and navy, called attention to the great need and the large possibilities of effort by the auxiliary, and its aid has resulted in an efficiency in the work which otherwise would have been impossible.

Through members of the auxiliary there have come large gifts of money for the maintenance of the committee's work on the army transports, in the Philippines, and at other points. There have also been given libraries, pictures, games, gramophones, stereopticons, music boxes and other equipment, all of which have been very helpful and greatly appreciated.

The largest result of the year's work is in the promise and planning through the auxiliary of a commodious and well-equipped association building soon to be erected near the New York Navy Yard. It is a generous beginning of a provision at the United States navy yards for the needs of the enlisted men of the navy which will greatly increase the reach and usefulness of this department of the international work.

III.—Business Department.

In this department the steady growth of the work has called for incessant and vigilant effort that the financial resources of the committee might be equal to the demands upon its treasury. W. E. Lougee, with the co-operation of his fellow secretaries, especially T. K. Cree and the general secretary, has made encouraging progress in systematizing and increasing the efficiency of the correspondence and visitation connected with this important department. The associations, the general secretaries and other employed officers, and many other friends have responded generously to these efforts and enabled the committee to meet successfully all its financial obligations for the fiscal year 1899. Though by faithful and diligent exertion a larger number of donors had been enlisted than in any previous year yet during the last month a special effort was required to secure $30,000 in order to close the year free of debt. Owing to the very generous response of friends, some of whom had already given liberally, this large sum was happily obtained.

IV.—State and Provincial Conventions.

At these conventions for 1899, twenty-seven in number, representatives of the committee were present in response to urgent invitations. There names are given in the tabulated report of these meetings. The many hearty letters of thanks that have been received indicate that the aid thus rendered has been greatly appreciated.

V.—The Field Work.

Field Secretaries C. K. Ober, C. L. Gates, W. B. Millar and C. S. Ward have continued in their respective fields, the central west, the south, the east and the northwest. In the fall of 1899 C. C. Michener was added to the force of the field secretaries, with special reference to the work in the southwest.

T. T. Hazlewood has worked in the east under general direction of the committee, but the expense of his work has been entirely met by the state committees and associations aided.

In connection with the field work F. B. Smith, spent the year in effort to promote religious interest in the associations. This addition to the committee's force was made possible by a generous friend, who has provided the fund necessary to secure it.

In all parts of the field substantial progress has been made. Valuable assistance has been given to state and provincial committees. In important cities associations have been strengthened, and in some cases effectively reorganized. Timely aid has been rendered in many critical emergencies. State committees temporarily without state secretaries have been served by the field secretaries, state conventions arranged for, and state work continued which otherwise would have been abandoned. Several states have also been helped to secure permanent state secretaries. Association work in the Yukon district has been continued under the direction of W. A. Reid, who is developing the association at Skagway, and is in correspondence with the friends of the work in other parts of the district.

Robert Weidensall, the senior secretary of the committee, has continued his efficient labors in the promotion of county organization and work, and in enlisting young men in Bible study and direct personal effort.

VI.—Work for Special Classes.

1. The Student Department.—This department has made decided progress in all phases of its work, under the general direction of John R. Mott and H. P. Andersen. Mr. Mott has continued to act as chairman of the executive committee of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions and as general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation. He has also shared with C. K. Ober the home administration of the foreign work of the committee and the special provision for Mr. Mott's support has been continued.

The secretaries of the department have visited institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada with great thoroughness and have conducted presidential conferences, deputation conferences and the four student summer conferences. The attendance upon the last named at Northfield, Lake Geneva, Wis., Asheville, N. C., and Pacific Grove, Cal., was in each case greater than ever before in the history of the movement. In all 381 institutions were represented by 1,187 delegates.

H. W. Hicks has worked chiefly in the colleges and universities of Canada and the east, W. K. Matthews and his successor, H. M. McIlhany, Jr., in the south, and C. O. Michener in the west, and on the Pacific Coast until September, 1899, when he was succeeded by H. W. Rose. George Gleason has worked among preparatory and high schools. R. P. Wilder, until September, and his successor, S. Earl Taylor, have worked among the theological students jointly for the committee and the Student Volunteer Movement. The Bible study department was under the direction of H. B. Sharman until October. G. A. Beaver has had leave of absence because of ill-health, and W. J. Parker, the intercollegiate secretary of Chicago, has rendered valuable service as a temporary substitute in the professional schools.

A remarkable advance has been made in the quality and amount of Bible study in the colleges through the work of the department. This is largely due to the standard courses of study which have been prepared and the close supervision through correspondence and attendance at conventions and conferences by the Bible study secretary. A Bible study cycle to provide for the four years of the college course has been planned, and the courses for the first three years are already in use.

The work in the theological institutions is meeting with hearty response. Already 46 seminaries representing 19 denominations have been organized. Special conferences for the officers of these associations were held last fall in Oberlin, O., and Madison, N. J.

2. The Railroad Department.—The supervision of the Railroad Department has occupied nearly the entire time of six secretaries, among whom the work has been divided as follows: C. J. Hicks, general administration, headquarters at the New York office; E. L. Hamilton, central west, headquarters at Chicago; H. O. Williams, southern New England and the south-east, headquarters at Richmond, Va.; John F. Moore, northern New England and Canada, headquarters at the New York office; G. D. McDill, the north-west and the Santa Fé Railroad, headquarters at Omaha, Neb., and F. B. Shipp, the southwest, headquarters at St. Louis, Mo.

J. M. Burwick has devoted seven months of the year to evangelistic work among railroad men under the direction of the committee, the expense of his work being borne entirely, as in previous years, by the railroad men.

The year has shown the most substantial and extensive growth of any in the history of the department; nineteen new associations have been added—an increase of five over the total of any previous year. Twelve new buildings have been erected and opened. This growth has not been restricted to any one section of the country. Sixty-five buildings valued at over $1,000,000, are now occupied exclusively by railroad departments or associations. The total cost of maintenance during the year was $325,000; about $180,000 of this amount was contributed by railroad corporations.

The most remarkable developments have been in the south-west on the Santa Fé and the Gould systems, where six new buildings have been erected. Bible study in the railroad departments has received a strong impetus through two conferences of secretaries and leaders from seventy associations where a special introductory course of Bible study for railroad men entitled "Main Lines in the Bible," prepared by Fred S. Goodman, was introduced.

Mr. Hicks was granted leave of absence for three months during the early part of the year without expense to the committee for either salary or expenses. He visited Russia to aid in promoting the interests of work among young men in that empire.

3. Army and Navy Department.—Decided advances have been made in the work of the Army and Navy Department, though much of the work in 1899 was necessarily of an emergency nature. Twenty-five secretaries were employed in the service of the committee. W. B. Millar has continued to have general direction, J. H. Banks sharing the supervision of the work in the army and F. L. Smith, since August, that in the navy. Chaplains R. E. Steele and W. O. Holway, U. S. N., have given valuable co-operation in the development of the work in the navy.

The army work in Cuba which, during the year, touched nearly twenty thousand men in the volunteer and regular regiments, has been directed from Havana where headquarters and store room have been maintained. In San Juan, Porto Rico, a building was secured which has been and continues to be a center of moral and religious influence on the island. In the Philippines where the larger part of the army has been operating, the authorities gave a notable testimony to the value of the association work by granting two commodious and well adapted buildings for its use. One is at Manila and the other at the Cavite naval station. Warrant for this action was given in October by the War Department which enjoined commanding officers "to facilitate the efforts of International Committee to provide helpful social and unsectarian religious influences by providing such suitable quarters as are available." Further evidence of appreciation and confidence on the part of the War Department was shown by a request for secretaries, who should have direction of religious and social work with the troops to be sent to the Philippines on transports carrying soldiers thither. Through the generosity of a friend the committee has been enabled to meet this request, with very gratifying results. At points in the islands where work has been carried on for the soldiers and sailors, English-speaking young men in government employ have also been allowed the privileges of the associations. Work at posts in the United States has been promoted by visitation and correspondence. Eight forts now have organized work, all but one of them being attached as departments to the city association near which they are situated. Temporary work has been done at a number of other posts. A system of travelling libraries, containing about sixty volumes each, has been inaugurated, twenty-six being already in use. Libraries of a more permanent character have been provided for the San Juan and Manila buildings. A series of lectures on appropriate subjects to be illustrated with the stereopticon have been prepared for use in both army and navy.

In the navy, a beginning has been made in the organization of work on shipboard. Plans have been approved by the navy department for the organization of the "Temperance League of the Naval Young Men's Christian Associations," having for its object the promotion of total abstinence among sailors. The Naval Branch Young Men's Christian Association building on Sands Street, Brooklyn, opened in March, 1899, soon proved inadequate to the need and the adjoining building was secured and equipped for additional dormitories. Even this enlarged provision does not meet the requirements of the work; it is therefore gratifying to note that a commodious building, 75 by 100, especially adapted to the needs of the association in the navy, is soon to be erected on Sands Street, Brooklyn, near the navy yard entrance. The entire cost of this building, including the furnishing is provided through the Women's Auxiliary of the committee.

4. Work for Colored and Indian Young Men.—W. A. Hunton has labored very effectively among the associations for colored young men which have made decided progress when all their difficulties are taken into consideration. In caring throughout his wide field for both the city and the student associations, Mr. Hunton has been ably seconded, especially in the city work, by his associate, J. E. Moorland. The annual conferences at Orangeburg, S. C., and Norfolk, Va., were reported by several experienced association men who participated in them as remarkable meetings. Methods of work were carefully studied, deep spiritual impressions received, and a considerable impulse given to the work of the department.

The work among Indian young men has been prosecuted under the care of the field secretaries, and the fourth summer school for the training of leaders in the Indian associations has been held.

VII.—Educational, Physical and Bible Study Departments.

1. Educational Department.—George B. Hodge has devoted himself chiefly to developing and strengthening uniform courses for evening class work, the high standard of which is maintained by international examinations. Six new subjects of study have been added, making twenty-four in all, and the needed examiners have been secured. The annual international examinations, held April 3-9, 1899, were participated in by one hundred and two associations, and certificates were won by 972 men. These certificates, which three years ago received official recognition from only ten colleges and universities, are now recognized by more than one hundred institutions. Eleven of these are state universities, fifteen are state colleges, forty denominational colleges and universities, and the remainder are leading technical, industrial and professional institutions.

Commendable progress has also been made in improving the work of the literary societies, by means of new pamphlets on that subject.

The fourth international educational exhibit, at the Grand Rapids convention, was by far the most practical, extensive, and helpful one ever arranged.

In connection with it, exhibits were made for the first time by the physical, army and navy, Bible study, and junior departments; to these were added pictures and plans of association buildings.

2. Physical Department.—In the Physical Department information and help have been rendered by Dr. Luther Gulick and George T. Hepbron to many associations regarding the equipment of gymnasiums and athletic grounds, the securing of competent physical directors, and many other features of the work. Mr. Hepbron has responded to numerous calls to present the claims of regulated sport. Rules for the registration of athletes and sanction of athletic events have grown in favor. One hundred and ten associations are members of the Athletic League. Thirty other associations have adopted the registration and sanction features. 1,483 men are registered by the league and 362 sanctions have been granted. George W. Ehler of Chicago, has rendered highly valued volunteer service in that section of the country.

3. Bible Study Department.—E. F. See, general secretary of the Brooklyn association, has continued his effective and gratuitous co-operation in the promotion of Bible study, preparing the annual prospectus for 1899, and undertaking the needed correspondence and visitation. He also conducted a conference of Bible workers and leaders who co-operated with him in the preparation of the Prospectus. Very desirable results have been accomplished, giving promise of a yet better prospectus for the coming year.

VIII.—The Central Office.

Upon the careful and thorough administration of the multiplied and multiplying work of the central office depends very much of the efficiency of what is attempted by the committee and its secretaries upon their wide and varied field. To aid Mr. Uhl, its veteran office secretary, in his ever increasing work, the committee has recently appointed as a secretarial office committee, O. J. Hicks, W. E. Lougee and John Glover.

Mr. Glover has been given the title "Associate Office Secretary;" he also continues at the office his quiet and invaluable service in the secretarial bureau, receiving needed co-operation from all his associates on the international force. During the year, at a larger number of points than ever, effective aid has been given in the location of association secretaries.

The publication department, under the careful management of G. L. Leonard, continues to serve efficiently all departments of the work.

Fifty-three new publications or revisions were issued during 1899.

The historical library maintains its usual growth, under the vigilant care of its founder, J. T. Bowne.

Cheering reports were received of the value of the observance of the November day and week of prayer. The office and traveling force of the committee united in extended effort for its promotion.

IX.—Committee Membership—Trustees.

To fill some of the vacancies in the membership of the committee, created by resignation and death, the following gentlemen have been elected: from New York city, Messrs. J. H. Canfield, J. G. Cannon, Cleveland H. Dodge, W. F. McDowell, and from Ohio, S. P. Fenn, of Cleveland.

The committee mourns the grievous loss, by death, among its active membership of Messrs. Gratwick of Buffalo, McAlpin of Cincinnati, and Angell of Detroit, and among its advisory members of Messrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York and Russell Sturgis of Boston. Equally they mourn and feel the loss of Dwight L. Moody, once a leader, always a generous friend of the whole association brotherhood and of the international work.

The board of trustees held its annual meeting March 14, 1899, at which the officers of the preceding year were re-elected.

X.—The Foreign Work.

The year has been an especially gratifying one in the work of the Foreign Department. The return of Mr. Clark to Brazil from his year of rest at home in 1898, was marked by a new interest and activity in the Rio de Janeiro association. This advance has been evidenced in a steady increase in the membership, in the attendance at meetings and Bible classes, and in the publication of a weekly paper. One of the members has shown his interest by devoting his life to the work, and is at present taking the three years secretarial course in the Springfield Training School.

In Ceylon both the city and intercollegiate work of the Colombo association have been well maintained. During the encampment for 1899 of the troops stationed in Ceylon, the association inaugurated with gratifying results, a work similar to that maintained in our own camps under the auspices of our army department.

The year has seen the completion and dedication of the building for the association in the Imperial University of Tokyo, Japan, and the practical completion of the building in Madras. The general secretary of the Tokyo association, Mr. Seijiro Niwa was given a leave of absence of several months, which was devoted to the study of the associations in the United States and Canada, the influence of which is already manifest in the Tokyo work.

With gratitude the committee reports an increase in the number of secretaries on the field from twelve to eighteen. This reinforcement was made possible largely through the hearty response of the friends of the foreign work to the statement of its needs which was made at the Grand Rapids convention in May. The new secretaries have been appointed to the following fields :

Robert P. Wilder, traveling student work in India; B. R. Barber, student work in Calcutta; L. P. Larsen, student work in Madras; J. R. Williamson, M.D., city, student and medical work in Poona; Walter J. Southam, city and student work in Hong Kong; V. W. Helm, city and national work in Japan; L. H. Beals, M.D., city, student and medical work in Madras.

Reports of an increasing spiritual interest have been received from all the fields occupied by the committee.

Early in the year L. D. Wishard, for twenty-one years a secretary of the committee, ten of which had been given to the interests of foreign work, resigned from the service of the committee to enter upon work of a similar character for the American Board. Grateful recognition of the long and invaluable service he had rendered in both the student and the foreign fields was made in the report of the committee to the Grand Rapids convention and in the resolutions adopted by that convention. For the supervision of the work the committee arranged that Mr. Ober and Mr. Mott representing the field and student departments, should enter into a special relation to problems of a similar character arising upon the foreign field.

The increased interest in the work on the part of North American associations and individual friends is marked and gratifying. The opportunity offered through the volunteer league and the committee's publications for the study of the different fields is proving helpful in the promotion of an intelligent and prayerful interest, and the development of a sense of responsibility for its maintenance and extension.

Temporary quarters were fitted up in the Bay View Hotel, Tompkinsville, S. I., N. Y., "for Dewey's men," and were visited by nearly 1,000 enlisted men.

No special quarters were fitted up to meet the Squadron during its visits at Philadelphia, New Orleans and Galveston, but the privileges of the Associations in these cities were cheerfully extended to officers and men. Thirty-eight sailors from the "Texas" attended a reception given by the New Orleans association, Feb. 21.

At San Diego, Cal., Naval Y. M. C. A. tickets were honored when presented; several of the crew of the "Iowa" used the association gymnasium and baths while training for an athletic contest. Members of the crews of the "Marblehead" and "Philadelphia" attended social gatherings at the rooms.

Special courtesies were extended to the crew of the "Hartford" by the association at San Francisco. A big reception was tendered to the officers and men of the "Iowa," with other entertainment, such as baths, lectures, etc.

When the "Olympia" returned from Manila last year, a large number of her crew were sent across the country to San Francisco. They were provided by our Naval Branch with a generous outfit of games, fruit, nuts, etc.

A large amount of reading matter and other equipment was sent to our naval stations at Guam and Cavite.

* Other sleeping accommodations, 63.

† By State Committee of Maine.

; "Big hotel had to be renovated—new plumbing, water piping, electric lights, and all fixed over."
